Topical Index

As compiled in his commentary on Proverbs, Allen Ross has written a topical index that covers short sayings of the book as well as longer dialogs. Since the passages are most frequently complex - that is, showing a contrast, a “better than” statement, a consequence, or a development of ideas - it’s clear that they could each be listed under several topics. However, the headings chosen here attempt to focus on the main teaching of each passage, even though it may be clarified by contrasts and causes.
