The Kings of Judah
First Kings 14:21 to 15:29 and Second Chronicles 12:1 to 17:1

The three original kings of Isra'el were Sha'ul, David and Solomon. After the death of Solomon (to see link click Ca – Solomon's Death), the ten northern tribes revolted and established the kingdom of Isra'el. The remaining tribes of Judah and Benjamin remained loyal to the son of Solomon and formed the kingdom of Judah in the south. There were twenty rulers of Judah and God put them on the throne. In fact, many of them had names that included God's name, like Uzziah (God is my strength), and Abijah (God is my father). Despite their religiously symbolic names, not all of them were faithful to ADONAI. Out of twenty rulers, only five of them were righteous.
