The Lake of Fire is the Second Death

20: 14-15

The Lake of Fire is the second death DIG: What is sh'ol? What happens to it? How is sh'ol different than the lake of fire? Why are people thrown into the lake of fire? How long will they be there? How can anyone escape the lake of fire? What does Jesus call it?

REFLECT: How can you or your loved ones avoid the second death and the lake of fire? If someone deliberately keeps on sinning after they have received the knowledge of the truth, what is left for them?

The evidence is indisputable, the verdict given and justice will finally be carried out. Just as there is a second and higher life in heaven for the faithful, there is also a second and deeper death in the lake of fire for the wicked. Because of that higher life in heaven, there is no more death; accordingly, after the deeper death in the lake of fire, there will be no more life. So the lake of fire not only represents the punishment of the enemies of righteousness but also their full and final defeat.<sup>468</sup>

Then death itself and sh'ol with all the wicked dead will be thrown into the lake of fire (20:14a) where the antichrist, the false prophet (19:20) and Satan (20:10) were already in agony. The word sh'ol is used eleven times and is to be distinguished from the word Gehenna, which refers to the final hell, or the lake of fire. Gehenna is the New Covenant word for the Valley of Ben Hinnom located southwest of Jerusalem. (also called Topeth, see the commentary on Jeremiah, to see link click Cf - They Will Bury the Dead in Topheth). In the TaNaKh, idolatrous Israelites burned their children in the fire there as sacrifices to false gods (Jeremiah 19:2-6). In Jesus' day, it was the site of Jerusalem's garbage dump. The fires kept burning day and night, giving off foul-smelling smoke. Sometimes bodies of criminals were dumped there to burn in the flames. Thus, the Valley of Ben Hinnom was a fitting picture of eternal hell (Matthew 5:22, 29-30, 10:28; 18:9, 23:15 and 33; Mark 9:43, 45, 47; Luke 12:5).<sup>469</sup> Yeshua called it the outer darkness (Matthew 8:12; 22:13; 25:30 KJV), and is symbolic of something much worse than the burning fire of Gehenna. It is the eternal, absolute separation from God, for death apart from Christ means separation.<sup>470</sup>

Dear Heavenly Father, Praise You for Your great love and justice. Praise You that you see the heart and no one can fool You by saying they love You when they really love themselves the most (Matthew 7: 21-23). May You guide the hearts of my families and friends who know about You, to decide to move beyond head knowledge, and to love and follow You now, before the Tribulation begins. Please continue to work in the hearts of any of our family and friends who have been left behind and are still here in the Tribulation. May you do whatever it takes to turn them to You - even if it costs them their lives. For death, for followers of Yeshua, will be a promotion to eternal peace and joy in heaven. For I consider the sufferings of this present time not worthy to be compared with the coming glory to be revealed to us (Romans 8:18). You are worthy of all our love! In holy Yeshua's name and power of His resurrection. Amen

Throughout the pages of the TaNaKh, both the righteous and the unrighteous were said to go to a place called sh'ol in Hebrew and Hades in Greek. While the Levitical sacrifices covered their sins it did not remove their sins (Hebrews 10:4). Only the death of Messiah could do that. So while the sacrificial system was sufficient to temporarily cover their sins, it was not able to get them into heaven. So all who died, both the righteous and the unrighteous, went to a place known as sh'ol. It had two compartments (Luke 16:19-31), one was a place of torment for the wicked and the other, known as Abraham's side, was a place of comfort, also called paradise (23:43). But it was not heaven. The two sides could communicate with each other, but they were separated by an immense gulf that made it impossible to cross over to the other side. When the righteous of the TaNaKh died, their bodies went into the ground, but their souls would go to Abraham's side or paradise. On the other hand, when unbelievers died, their bodies went in the ground, but their souls would be tormented on the unrighteous side of sh'ol.

When Jesus died, He not only paid the price for all future sins, but He also paid the price for all past sins (Romans 3:25; Hebrews 9:15). Therefore, the sins of the righteous of the TaNaKh were removed. While the body of Yeshua remained in the tomb, His soul went down to sh'ol, announcing that He had redeemed, or bought back, the souls of all the righteous of the TaNaKh. Then, when Messiah arose from the dead, the righteous of the TaNaKh were removed from paradise and brought to heaven (Ephesians 4:8-10). Consequently, the righteous side of sh'ol is no longer occupied.

Sh'ol is temporary, but the lake of fire will be permanent. I was once the foreman of a jury that sent a twenty-nine-year-old man to prison for rape. He was sentenced to thirty years, with five counts of special circumstances, adding five years for each count. Instead of serving fifty-five years he will probably serve half that time if he behaves himself. But the incarceration in the lake of fire is eternal, and eternal is a long, long time.

The lake of fire is the second death (20:14b). This will be the end of the first death – physical death. This is the good news for believers, but horrible news for the lost. When they are raised from the dead they will want to die physically, but they will have new resurrected bodies that cannot be destroyed in the lake of fire. As a result, their suffering will be eternal. When the earth is destroyed, people will be in one of two places: the New Jerusalem, or the lake of fire.<sup>471</sup>

Death will be finally removed from the scene for believers. No longer will it be said: In Adam all die (First Corinthians 15:22). Death is personified because it is man's greatest enemy. In the TaNaKh we read: I will ransom them from the power of the grave. I will redeem them from death. Where, O death, are your plagues? Where, O grave, is your destruction (Hosea 13:14). And in the B'rit Chadashah, Rabbi Sha'ul writes: The last enemy to be destroyed is death . . . Where, O death, is your victory? Where, O death, is your sting (First Corinthians 15:26 and 55). In both instances, God the Holy Spirit emphasizes through the human writers, that Jesus has overcome the grave and because He has overcome the grave, we, through Him, can also conquer death.

Today, when unbelievers die, their bodies are buried in the ground and their soul goes to hell. However, when believers die, their bodies are also buried in the ground, but their souls immediately go to heaven to be with the Lord (Second Corinthians 5:8; Philippians 1:23).

When the first resurrection occurs, the bodies of believers will be resurrected and reunited with their souls. This will happen at the Rapture for the New Covenant saints, and after the Second Coming (see Ey - The Seventy-Five Day Interval), for the righteous of the TaNaKh and the Tribulation Martyrs. When the second resurrection occurs, the bodies of the unbelievers will be resurrected and reunited with their souls from hades.<sup>472</sup>

If anyone's name was not found written in the book of life, he or she was thrown into the lake of fire (20:15). Because the lost will have their names blotted out of the book of life (Psalm 69:28; Exodus 32:30-32), an awful blank spot will be left in the book where their name should have been. Then they will be worthy of judgment and thrown into the lake of fire. But everyone whose name is found written in the book of life - will be delivered (Dani'el 12:1). Jesus said it this way: He who overcomes will be dressed in white. I will never blot out his name from the book of life, but will acknowledge his name before My Father and His angels (3:5).

There is only one way to avoid the terrifying reality of sh'ol. Those who confess their sins and ask God to forgive them on the basis of Messiah's substitutionary death on their behalf will be delivered from His eternal wrath (Romans 5:9; First Thessalonians 1:10, 5:9). For those who refuse to repent, however, the grave warning expressed by the writer to the Hebrews will apply: If we deliberately keep on sinning after we have received the knowledge of the truth, no sacrifice for sins is left, but only a fearful expectation of judgment and of raging fire that will consume the enemies of God. Anyone who rejected the Torah died without mercy on the testimony of two or three witnesses. How much more severely do you think a man deserves to be punished who has trampled the Son of God under foot, who has treated as an unholy thing the blood of the New Covenant that sanctified him, and who has insulted the Holy Spirit of grace? For we know Him who said: It is mine to avenge, I will repay, and again, "ADONAI, will judge His people." It is a dreadful thing to fall into the hands of the living God (Hebrews 10:26-31).<sup>473</sup>
