While Joseph was in Prison the LORD was with Him, and Granted Him Favor with the Prison Warden

39: 19-23

While Joseph was in Prison the LORD was with him, and granted him favor with the prison warden. DIG: How is the sovereignty of God seen in the story of Joseph? Does Potiphar buy his wife's story? If so, why doesn't Joseph receive the death penalty? What was the basis of Joseph's good fortune in prison? What was the turning point there? What four ways did Joseph foreshadow the life of Christ?

REFLECT: How does God's showing His grace in bad situations motivate you to remain faithful to Him? How does God's promise of His presence motivate you to remain faithful? Can you reflect on a time when looking back, you realized that the Lord had protected you? How does that affect your faith? Joseph could have turned the hurts in his life into bitterness, but he found healing instead. What made all the difference for him? What makes all the difference for you?

When Joseph's master heard the story his wife told him, saying, "This is how your slave treated me," Potiphar burned with anger, although part of him suspected that she was lying (39:19). Notice it does not say he burned with anger against Joseph. Potiphar knew Joseph and his wife too well to really believe that he had heard the whole story. Potiphar probably burned with anger at his wife because this wasn't the first time he suspected something like this and because he realized that he was going to lose a trusted slave. But more than anything, he realized he would lose the services of one who had been extremely profitable for him. Nevertheless, for appearance's sake, he had to do something.

34. Neither Joseph nor Jesus said a word to defend themselves. In Chapter 37 we noticed Joseph's passive submission to wrong done to him by his heartless brothers. So here, when he is falsely accused by Potiphar's wife, not a word of appeal is made, nor is there any murmuring against the cruel injustice done to him as he was about to be cast into prison. When he was hated, like our Savior, he did not hate back. How this reminds us of what the prophet Isaiah wrote: He was oppressed and afflicted, yet He did not open His mouth; He was led like a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is silent, so He did not open His mouth (Isaiah 53:7). There are eighty ways that the life of Joseph would prepare the Jews for the coming of Jesus Christ (see the commentary on Genesis Iw - The Written Account of the Generations of Jacobs).

If Potiphar had believed his wife and was truly angry with him, Joseph would have been executed on the spot, no questions asked. In contrast, the king's prison was a place for political prisoners and would hardly have been expected to accommodate foreign slaves guilty of crimes against their masters. Potiphar was in a difficult position. He could not ignore his wife's accusation without publicly humiliating her and himself even if he were certain she was lying. The action he took against Joseph spoke volumes and *was as minimal as it could have been and still retain the family's honor.*⁶⁰⁴

Joseph's master took him and put him in prison, the place where the king's prisoners were confined (39:20a). 35. For the sake of appearances, both Joseph and Jesus were cast into prison (First Peter 3:18-19). It is evident that Potiphar did not believe the accusation of his wife against Yosef. This couldn't have been the only time her low character became obvious. Potiphar had probably suspected this many times before. Besides, if he really believed her, the chief executioner would have immediately put his Hebrew slave to death. How striking is the parallel between the acts of Potiphar and Pilate! He, too, did not believe in the guilt of our Lord. He said: I find no fault in Him (John 18:38 KJV). He knew the low character of those who accused the Savior. But, as an officer of the Roman Empire who had been accused of rebelling against Cesar (John 19:12), for political expediency and for the sake of appearances, he passed judgment on Him.

36. Both innocent, Yosef and Yeshua suffered severely at the hands of the Gentiles. Not only was Joseph envied and hated by his own brothers, and sold by them into the hands of the Gentiles, but he was also treated unfairly by the Gentiles and unjustly sent to prison. Initially, they bruised his feet with shackles and his neck was put in irons (Psalm 105:18). But God was with him and Joseph's response to this torture softened the heart of the prison warden. Thus, God rescued him from all his troubles (Acts 7:9b-10a). And Jesus also suffered severely. Now as Yeshua was going up to Yerushalayim, He took the twelve apostles aside and said to them: We are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and the teachers of the law. They will condemn Him to death and will turn Him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and flogged and crucified. On the third day He will be raised to life (Matthew 20:17-19).

Joseph's life had hit rock bottom. One moment he was the trusted servant to the head of the prison guards, and the next moment he was an inmate in that same prison - all through the lies of his mater's wife. He sat in the darkness in irons, crushed, in the darkest hour of his life. He was in a living hell. After ten years in a foreign land he was in prison without a friend in the world. He lifted his eyes to a God he could not see and cries out, "Why?" He tries to adjust the shackles on his feet so they do not cut him when he moves. He feels the iron yoke around his neck. The darkness hid the tears that were running down his face, and he began to review his life. How did I ever get to this black hole? Have you ever asked yourself that question? How did I get in this mess? Years of constant heartache. Years of one failure after another. You cry out, "God, where are You?"

At some point in your life you will have a similar experience as Joseph in prison. If you haven't been there, one day you're going to go there. It will be the darkest moment in your life. It may be the day your divorce is finalized. It may have been the day you buried your precious child. It may be the day that your teenage daughter comes to you with the news that she is pregnant. It may have been the day your son was sent to prison, never to come home again. It may be the day you discover that your spouse is cheating on you.

On that day you need to remember that champions are never chosen from the ranks of the unscarred. Joseph died with scars around his legs and neck. Jesus died with the scars of His flogging and the cross. Paul had scars on his back from the Roman whip. And in this life, you will have scars. No one gets to heaven without scars because you will have trouble in this life. But it doesn't mean that God does not love you; it means you are a human being. Trouble strengthens you, it teaches you, and it reminds you that you need His help. ADONAI says to you: Call to Me and I will answer you and tell you great and unsearchable things you do not know (Jeremiah 33:3). Call to God because He is ADONAI Shamah (Ezeki'el 48:35), or the LORD who is there. He's there in the pit, He's there in the prison, He's there when you pray, and He's there when you feel all alone and forgotten. It is then that you will hear a gentle whisper saying: I will never leave you or forsake you (Heb 13:5). King Solomon said: I called on your name, God, from the depths of the pit; You heard my plea, "Do not close your ears to my cry for relief." You came near when I called You and You said, "Do not fear" (Lam 3:55-57).⁶⁰⁵ And in his darkest hour, Yosef called upon the Rock of Isra'el (49:24) and God was with him.

Joseph could have been consumed by the way he had been treated, first by his brothers,* and then by Potiphar's wife. He could have sulked. The hurts could have festered in his heart until he became bitter. Instead, Joseph found healing. He saw beyond his scars and allowed God to bless and prosper him.⁶⁰⁶ We are not told precisely at what point it dawned on Joseph that God had sent him on ahead of his family to save them; but to give him hope, it could have possibly happened here at his lowest point when he was in prison and humanly speaking, had no chance of release.

37. Both Joseph and Jesus won the respect of their jailers, but while Yosef was there in the prison, ADONAI was with him; He showed him kindness and granted him favor in the eyes of the prison warden (39:20b-21). And even the Roman centurion, the one who was in charge of the crucifixion of the Savior said: Surely this was a righteous man (Luke 23:47b).

The final paragraph (39:20b-23) creates a perfect symmetry for this chapter. Each phrase matches almost perfectly with a corresponding phrase in the opening paragraph (39:1-6a). Once again the narrator states: ADONAI was with him while he was in prison, just as He had been with him in Potiphar's house (39:2). Joseph found favor in the eyes of the prison warden, just as He had with Potiphar. The prison warden put Joseph in charge of everything that went on there, just as Potiphar had placed Yosef in charge of his entire household (39:4). God blessed Joseph's work and made everything he did in the prison prosper, just as He had done earlier when Joseph was in Potiphar's household (39:5). This symmetry illustrates that the LORD was in control of every aspect of Joseph's life.⁶⁰⁷

Without argument, the story of Joseph is one of the clearest accounts of the sovereignty of God found anywhere in the Bible. It is not a systematic theology of that doctrine. Instead, it is more powerful because we see how the hand of the sovereign God was evident in a real human life. There in prison, ADONAI, the LORD of mercy, showed him kindness. Mercy or kindness in Hebrew is hesed and bears quite a complex meaning. It generally means faithfulness and steadfast love in a relationship. But it also specifically refers to the superior party in the relationship and the protection offered to the inferior party (see my commentary on Ruth, to see link click Af - The Concept of Chesed). In other words, the LORD was protecting Joseph. So, the warden put Yosef in charge of all those held in the prison, and he was made responsible for all that was done there (39:22). The warden would never do that if he was a rebel with a bad attitude; he totally trusted Joseph.

The warden paid no attention to anything under Joseph's care, because ADONAI was with Joseph and gave him success in whatever he did (39:23). Again, not unlike Potiphar's household, the prison was blessed because of Joseph and Joseph was blessed because of God. Corrie Ten Boom, author and survivor of the infamous Ravensbruck Concentration Camp, said, "There is no pit so deep enough, that God is not deeper still."⁶⁰⁸ Yosef would certainly have agreed with that because God was the source of his success. But was it His will that Joseph be in prison? Well, it was really necessary that he be there, as we'll see in the next file.
