End Notes

There are three kinds of end notes. First, when you take an idea or concept that you had never heard of before and cite it. This is done mostly in an academic environment, and this is not a strictly academic commentary, but I included them nonetheless in an effort to be thorough. Secondly, you reword a section written by another author. And thirdly, you quote directly. I have included all three types of end notes to be detailed. Most authors don't include all three. If the Life of Christ was bound as a book it would be 1,600 pages with 700,00o words, or a set of three books each being 533 pages. That averages out to a very reasonable ratio of about one reference per page.
